

The propagation greenhouse is stuffed with alliums. Onions, leeks, scallions, shallots will be the first to get planted outdoors when conditions become more favorable for planting.

What a different way to start out the season. Since the corona virus outbreak I've been trying to wrap my head around what impact all this ultimately will have on the season. The closing of all restaurants instantly took a big part of my business and put it on an indefinite hold. The CSA program and my web store hopefully will gain enough momentum throughout the season to make up for the loss in restaurant sales.

The CSA program and our online web store are two ways we can help you to keep your refrigerators stocked at home this summer. We're planning to have more items available on our web store as we get further along with the season. All e-commerce orders placed before Sunday will be ready for delivery or pick up by the following Thursday. Both on-farm pick up, or a home delivery option for e-commerce purchases are available for people living in Ozaukee and Milwaukee counties.

There's also the same home delivery option for our CSA vegetable subscription program. Share members can add in items from the online store and have them shipped along with their weekly vegetable share. Vegetable share members will have the option to get their food sent to a designated pick-up location, or choose a home delivery. Contact us via email if you've already signed up for a share and would now like to switch to a home delivery.

We're still in search of a qualified location for a pick up site in Grafton and Port Washington. Contact us if you'd be interested in hosting a site at your home.

That's about it for now. Thank you everyone for your interest and continued support. Stay healthy!

Happy Spring!

Steve
